The Common Core State Standards emphasize that the foundational skills are essential components of an effective comprehensive reading program but not an end in and of themselves. The foundation skills are one piece of meaning making. This three-day workshop will involve:

• Getting reacquainted with the foundational skills
• Connecting with the ELA/ELD framework and accompanying white paper on foundational skills
• Exploring resources/websites for teaching foundational skills
• Discussing implications for English learners and struggling students

Jan. 26 & 27 and Feb. 15, 2017
