In this time of physical distancing, participation in the arts is as important as ever. Schools across the county are getting creative to ensure all the arts keep on going.

The Opera Company at the Los Angeles County High School for the Arts (LACHSA) again brightens the day with a heartwarming rendition of Rozalla's "Everybody's Free." Dancers and their inspiring instructor, Bonnie Hanson, used talent and tenacity to bring the company's Dancetra show. Unable to perform together, the determined students, parent and tech hotlines managed by staff daily, and teachers and schools to view.
